The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "anti-overflow partition (being) fixed to the bottom of the tank" of claim 4 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Art Unit: 3753

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. §102 (b) as being anticipated by Pickering.

The patent to Pickering discloses a “hydraulic fluid tank (generally at the hydraulic fluid reservoir made up of halves 1 and 2) comprising: a ceiling (upper wall 3) and a bottom (lower wall 4); and a hydraulic fluid feed orifice (fill opening 9), which feed orifice (9) is placed in the ceiling (3) and opens out to the outside of the tank, the tank being characterized in that an anti-overflow partition (read at partition 15 of figure 1) is placed inside the tank extending at least from the ceiling (3) and surrounding the feed orifice (9) at least in part” as recited in claim 1.

Regarding claim 2, in Pickering, “the anti-overflow partition (15) is fixed perpendicularly to the ceiling (3) of the tank” as recited.

Regarding claim 3, in Pickering, “the anti-overflow partition (15) is U-shaped” as recited.

Regarding claim 4, in Pickering, “the anti-overflow partition (15) is fixed to the bottom (4) of the tank” as recited. See column 2, lines 66-68.

Claim 1 is further, and claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or 102(e) as being anticipated by Shinohara et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,571,556).

The patent to Shinohara et al. discloses a "hydraulic fluid tank (generally at the hydraulic fluid reservoir 5 forming chamber 4) comprising: a ceiling (upper wall) and a bottom (lower wall); and a hydraulic fluid feed orifice (fill opening 10), which feed orifice (10) is placed in the ceiling and opens out to the outside of the tank, the tank being characterized in that an anti-overflow partition (read at partition wall 6i) is placed inside the tank extending at least from the ceiling and surrounding the feed orifice (10) at least in part" as recited in claim 1.

Regarding claim 5, in Shinohara et al., "the anti-overflow partition (at 6i) is fixed solely to the ceiling of the tank" as recited.

Regarding claim 6, in Shinohara et al., "the tank includes a wall (sidewall) connecting the ceiling to the bottom, which wall is provided with stiffening ribs (6h) that are preferably fixed perpendicularly thereto" as recited.

Claims 7-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
